Before you start

This guide shows you how to put a product on the McCormack's website, change its price, put it on sale and take it off again.

Have these ready before you open Shopify:

- the photographs (see page 21 for what they need to look like)
- the price, and the old price if it is reduced
- how many you have in stock
- the brand, spelled exactly as it already is on the website
- which department it belongs in
- whether it is a medicine: look for a licence number on the pack (page 28)

Four fields decide where a product shows up on the website: Product type, Vendor, Status and Sales channels. Pages 9 to 13 cover them. Get those four right and the rest is easy to fix later.

Open the Products page

1. Sign in at admin.shopify.com.
2. Click Products in the menu on the left.
3. Click Add product at the top right.

Before adding anything, search the list for the product first. It may already be there as a draft, or under a slightly different name. Two copies of one product confuse customers and split its reviews.

The screenshot shows the Shopify Admin interface. On the left, the 'Products' menu item is selected. The main area displays a table of products. A red arrow points to the 'Add product' button in the top right corner of the main content area.

- Title: A text input field containing 'Short sleeve t-shirt'.
- Description: A rich text editor with a toolbar. A red arrow points to the 'Paragraph' dropdown menu in the toolbar.
- Media: A section with 'Upload new' and 'Select existing' buttons, and a note 'Accepts images, videos, or 3D models'.
- Category: A dropdown menu with the text 'Choose a product category'.
- Price: A section with a currency and price input (€ 0.00) and a table for pricing details (Compare-at, Unit price, Charge tax, Yes, Cost).

On the right side, there is a sidebar with various settings:

- Status: A dropdown menu set to 'Active'.
- Publishing: A section with 'All channels' and a toggle switch.
- Product organization: A section with a link icon.
- Type: A dropdown menu set to 'None'.
- Vendor: A dropdown menu set to 'None'.
- Collections: A section with an 'Add collections' button.
- Tags: A section with an 'Add tags' button.
- Theme template: A dropdown menu set to 'Default product'.

Title

Type the name customers will see. Use this order:

Brand · product · size

- Bio-Oil Dry Skin Gel 100ml
- Revive Active Tropical 210 Sachets

Keep the size in the title. Customers compare sizes in the search results, and it is the only way to tell two sizes apart there.

Do not put prices, "SALE" or "NEW" in the title. The website adds those itself, and a title that says SALE keeps saying it after the sale ends.

The screenshot shows the 'Add product' page in a Shopify-like admin interface. A red arrow points to the 'Description' field, which is currently empty. The interface includes a sidebar with navigation options like Home, Orders, Products, Collections, Inventory, Purchase orders, Transfers, Gift cards, Customers, Growth, Discounts, Content, Markets, Finance, Analytics, Sales channels, Online Store, Agentic, and Apps. The main form has sections for Title, Description, Media, Category, Price, and various settings like Status, Publishing, and Vendor.

Description

Write what the product is and who it is for, in short paragraphs. Start with the most useful sentence: customers often read only the first line.

- What it does, in plain words
- Who it suits, and who should not use it
- Pack size and how long it lasts

For medicines and supplements, copy dosage and warnings from the pack or the patient leaflet, word for word. Do not reword them.

Do not paste straight from a supplier's website. It often brings hidden formatting with it that breaks the page layout. Paste into a plain text editor first, then copy it from there.

Photographs

1. In the Media box, click Upload new and choose your photographs, or drag them onto the box.
2. The first photograph is the one shown on category pages and in search. Drag to reorder if it is not the front of the pack.
3. Click each photograph and fill in the alt text: a short description, for example "Bio-Oil Dry Skin Gel 100ml tube, front". Screen readers read this aloud for customers who cannot see the image.

Photographs must be square, on a pale background and at least 1000 pixels wide. Page 21 has the full list.

The screenshot shows the 'Add product' form with the following sections:

- Image Upload: A large box with 'Upload new' and 'Select existing' buttons. Below it, it says 'Accepts images, videos, or 3D models'.
- Category: A dropdown menu labeled 'Choose a product category' with a note: 'Determines tax rates and adds metafields to improve search, filters, and cross-channel sales'.
- Price: A section with a red arrow pointing to the 'Price' input field, which contains '0.00'. Below the input are tabs: 'Compare-at', 'Unit price', 'Charge tax', 'Yes', and 'Cost per item'.
- Inventory: A section with an 'Inventory tracked' toggle switch. It includes a 'Quantity' input field (set to 0) and a 'Shop location' dropdown.
- Shipping: A section with a 'Physical product' toggle switch. It includes a 'Package' dropdown (set to 'Store default') and a 'Product weight' input field.
- Right Sidebar: Contains 'Collections' (Add collections), 'Tags' (Add tags), and 'Theme template' (Default product).

Price

1. In the Price box, type the selling price. Numbers only, no € sign: 12.99.
2. Leave Compare-at alone unless the product is reduced. Page 17 explains how to use it.
3. Leave Charge tax as it is. If you are not sure whether a product is VAT-exempt, ask before changing it.

Free delivery starts at a set order total, which is set once for the whole site. You do not enter it on a product.

Stock

1. In the Inventory box, make sure the Inventory tracked switch is on.
2. Type how many you actually have in the box beside Shop location.
3. Leave Sell when out of stock set to Off, unless you have been told to take back-orders for this product.

Real numbers only. If you put 1 when you have none, the website sells something you cannot send. If you put 0 when it is on the shelf, it shows "sold out" and the sale is lost.

The screenshot shows the 'Add product' form with the following details:

- Price: A text input field showing '€ 0.00'. Below it are tabs for 'Compare-at', 'Unit price', 'Charge tax' (set to 'Yes'), and 'Cost per item'.
- Inventory: A section with a toggle for 'Inventory tracked' (turned on). It contains two input fields for 'Quantity' and 'Shop location'. A red arrow points to the 'Shop location' input field, which contains the number '0'. Below these are tabs for 'SKU', 'Barcodes', and 'Sell when out of stock' (set to 'Off').
- Shipping: A section with a toggle for 'Physical product' (turned on). It includes a 'Package' dropdown menu showing 'Store default • Sample box - 22 x 13.7 x 4.2 cm, 0 kg' and a 'Product weight' input field showing '0.0' with a unit dropdown set to 'kg'. Below are tabs for 'Country of origin' and 'HS Code'.
- Variants: A section with a button labeled 'Add options like size or color'.

Save it as a draft first

1. Click Status at the top right. A new product starts as Active, which means live straight away. Choose Draft.
2. Click Save in the bar at the top of the page.

A draft is saved but customers cannot see it. Fill in the four fields on the next pages, check the product, and only then change it to Active.

The four fields that decide where it appears

A product can be perfectly written and still be impossible to find. These four fields decide where it appears:

- Product type: which department page it is on
- Vendor: which brand page it is on
- Status: whether it is live or a draft
- Sales channels: whether the website is allowed to show it

The next four pages take them one at a time.

Not departments: Christmas Shop · Clearance · New · Sale · a brand name · blank

Product type decides the department

The department pages (Beauty, Skincare, Medicines & Health and the rest) collect products by Product type. A type is written as Department > Subcategory, for example `Skincare > Hands & Feet`.

The first word decides the department. The table shows which word goes to which page.

Seasons, promotions and brands are not departments. A product typed "Christmas Shop", "Clearance > 3 for €10", "New" or "Brands > BPerfect" appears on no department page at all. On 25 September, 153 products on the website were in no department, and 32 of them had no type at all.

The screenshot shows the 'Add product' form in the Shopify admin. The left sidebar contains navigation links for Home, Orders, Products, Collections, Inventory, Purchase orders, Transfers, Gift cards, Customers, Growth, Discounts, Content, Markets, Finance, Analytics, Sales channels, Online Store, and Agentic. The main form area is titled 'Add product' and includes the following sections:

- Title: A text input field containing 'Short sleeve t-shirt'.
- Description: A rich text editor with a toolbar and a large text area.
- Media: A section with 'Upload new' and 'Select existing' buttons, and a note 'Accepts images, videos, or 3D models'.
- Category: A dropdown menu with the placeholder 'Choose a product category'.
- Price: A section with a price input field set to '€ 0.00' and a 'Compare-at' field.
- Product organization: A dropdown menu with the placeholder 'Choose a product organization'.
- Type: A dropdown menu with the placeholder 'None'. A red arrow points to this dropdown.
- Vendor: A dropdown menu with the placeholder 'None'.
- Collections: A section with an 'Add collections' button.
- Tags: A section with an 'Add tags' button.
- Theme template: A dropdown menu with the placeholder 'Default product'.

Setting the product type

1. In the `Product organization` box on the right, click Type.
2. Pick from the list that opens. You can type to narrow it down, for example Skincare. Do not create a new type.
3. Choose the most specific match, for example `Skincare > Hands & Feet`.

Type is not Category. Under the photographs there is a box called Category, and Shopify sometimes suggests one. That is Shopify's own list and does not put the product on any of our pages. Accept it if you like, but it is Type that counts.

Christmas, Black Friday or 3-for-€10: keep the real type, and ask for the product to be added to the promotion. The promotion never replaces the type.

The screenshot shows the 'Add product' form in a Shopify admin interface. The form is divided into several sections:

- Title: A text input field containing 'Short sleeve t-shirt'.
- Description: A rich text editor with a toolbar and a large text area.
- Media: A section with 'Upload new' and 'Select existing' buttons, and a note 'Accepts images, videos, or 3D models'.
- Category: A dropdown menu with the text 'Choose a product category'.
- Price: A section with a 'Price' input field set to '€ 0.00' and a 'Compare-at' input field.
- Right sidebar: Contains various settings:
 - Status: A dropdown menu set to 'Active'.
 - Publishing: A section with 'All channels' and 'Product organization' options.
 - Type: A dropdown menu set to 'None'.
 - Vendor: A dropdown menu set to 'None', highlighted with a red arrow.
 - Collections: A section with 'Add collections' and 'Add tags' buttons.
 - Tags: A section with 'Add tags' and 'Add tags' buttons.
 - Theme template: A dropdown menu set to 'Default product'.

Vendor is the brand, spelled exactly

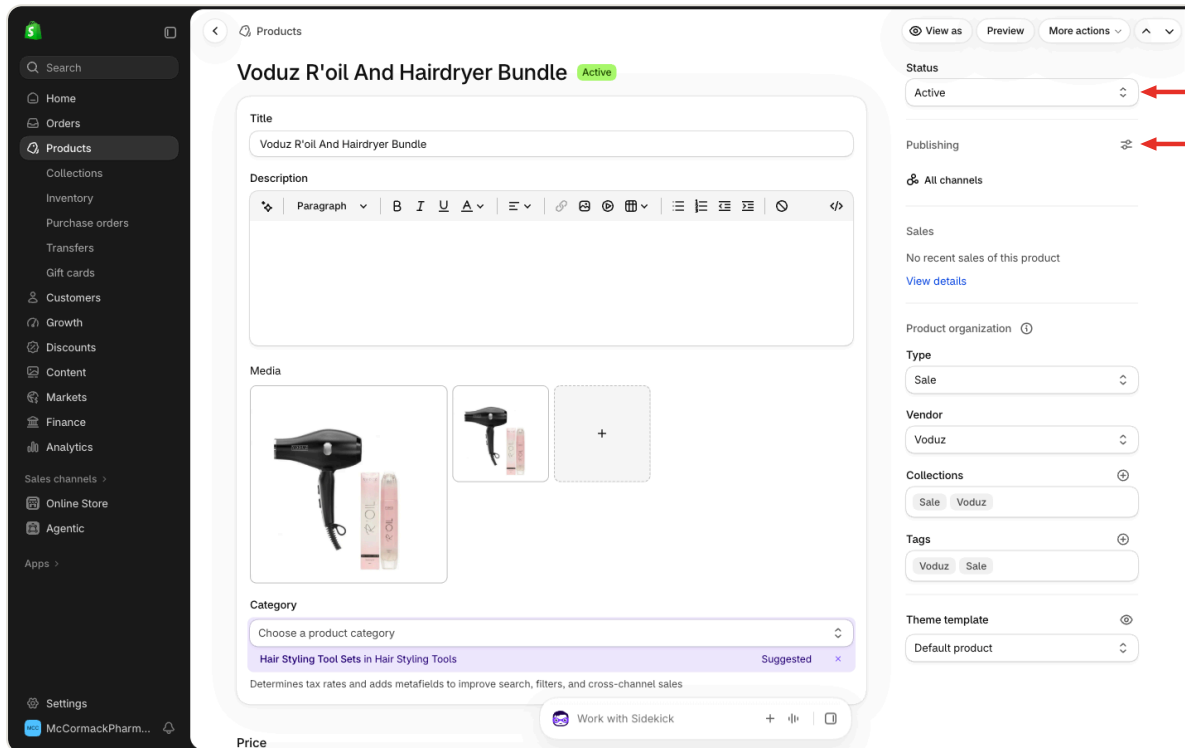

Each brand page shows every product whose Vendor matches the brand name. The match ignores capital letters and accents, but nothing else.

- "Bio-Oil" and "BIO-OIL" are the same brand.
- "Bio-Oil" and "Bio Oil" are two different brands. The brand page splits in two, and customers see only half the range.

1. Click Vendor on the right.

2. Pick the existing name from the list, typing to narrow it down. Only add a new one if the brand has never been on the website.

A brand new brand does not get its own brand page automatically. Tell the web team when you add one.

Status and sales channels

Status

- Active: live, customers can see and buy it.
- Draft: saved but hidden. Use it while you are still working on a product.
- Unlisted: do not use. The product disappears from the shop's pages but anyone with the link can still open it.

Sales channels are under Publishing. It should say All channels, or list Online Store. To change it, click the small sliders button beside Publishing. Without Online Store, the product stays off the website even when it is Active.

On 25 September, 71 Active products were not ticked for the Online Store, so no customer could see them. If a product "isn't on the website", check this first.

Check it before you go live

1. Click Preview at the top of the product page. It opens the product as a customer would see it.
2. Check the title, price, photographs and description.
3. If it is a medicine, check it has the tag pharmacist-review (page 28).
4. Change Status to Active, check Publishing includes the Online Store, and click Save.
5. On the website, open the department page and the brand page and make sure the product is on both. It can take a minute or two to appear.

Draft, archive or delete?

	ON THE WEBSITE	WEB ADDRESS	CAN COME BACK
Active	Yes	Works	n/a
Draft	No	Kept for later	Yes, one click
Archived	No	Kept for later	Yes, one click
Deleted	No	Page not found	No, gone for good

Draft, don't delete

When a product is out for a while, or you are not sure about it, set it to Draft. It comes off the website straight away and everything is kept.

Deleting cannot be undone, and it takes more with it than you might expect:

- The product's web address stops working. Google results, links customers have saved and emailed promotions all lead to a "page not found".
- Its photographs, description and reviews are gone. Bringing it back means starting again from nothing.
- It drops out of customers' wishlists.

If a product is discontinued for good, archive it instead: More actions >

Archive product. It is hidden and moved out of the main list, and can still be brought back. Delete product is directly underneath it, in red. Do not click it.

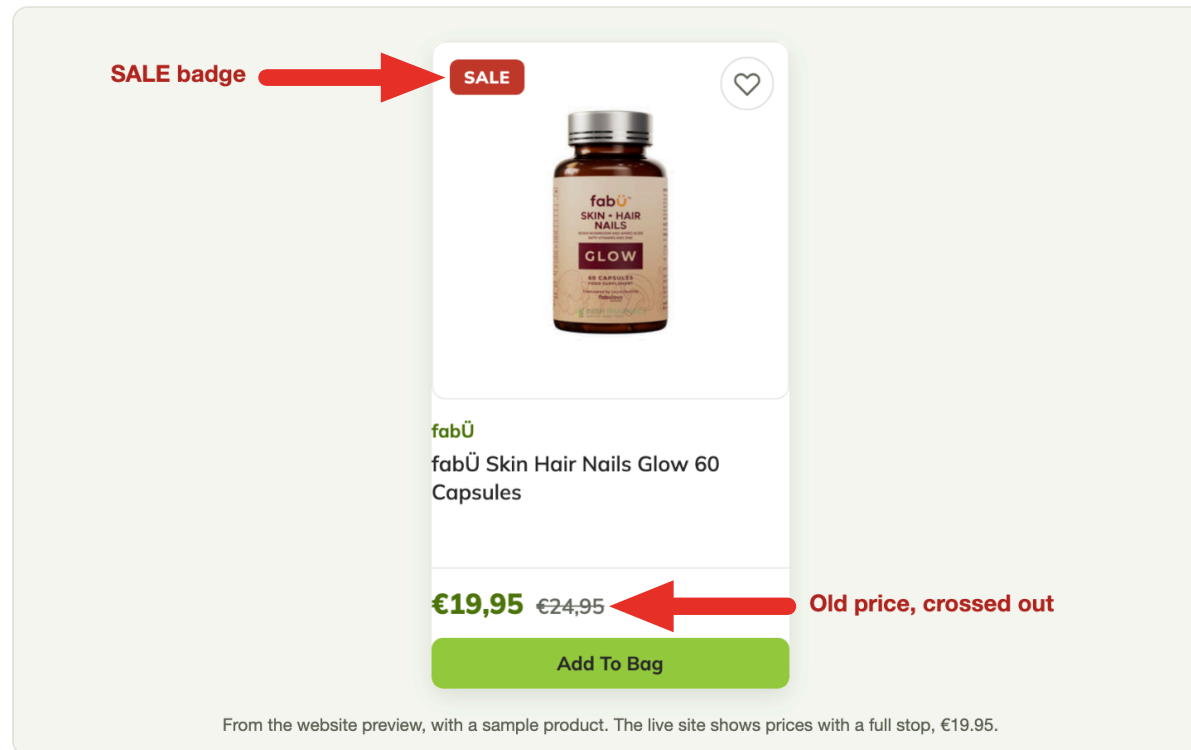

Taking a product off the website

1. Open the product.
2. Click Status and choose Draft.
3. Click Save.

To bring it back, set it to Active again. Nothing has to be re-entered.

If the product is the last one in the Sale collection, tell the web team before you draft it. An empty Sale page makes the homepage's "On Sale This Month" section show sample products.

How a sale price works

A product shows as reduced only when it has a Compare-at price that is higher than its Price.

- Price is what the customer pays now: €19.95
- Compare-at price is what it was: €24.95

With both filled in, the website adds the red SALE badge and shows the old price crossed out.

Without a compare-at price, a reduction looks like an ordinary price. If you just lower the Price, customers see €19.95 with no badge and no crossed-out price, and nothing tells them it is a deal.

Putting a product on sale: the price

1. Open the product.
2. Click Compare-at under the price. A Compare-at price box opens.
3. Type the current (old) price into Compare-at price.
4. Type the new, lower price into Price, then click Save.

The compare-at price must be a price you genuinely charged before. It is a claim to customers that the product was that price. Do not inflate it.

If the product comes in several sizes, set both prices on each size that is reduced.

Putting a product on sale: the Sale page

The Sale page, and the homepage section "On Sale This Month", show every product with the tag sale.

1. In the Product organization box, click Tags.
2. Type sale and press Enter. Capital letters do not matter: Sale works too.
3. Click Save.

The price and the tag are separate. The compare-at price makes the SALE badge. The sale tag puts the product on the Sale page. A product on sale needs both.

New arrivals work the same way: the tag New In puts a product on the New In page.

Leave "Overwrite products with matching handles" unticked

Bulk import: test with three rows first

You can add or update many products at once from a spreadsheet. It is fast, and it is also the quickest way to damage hundreds of products in one click.

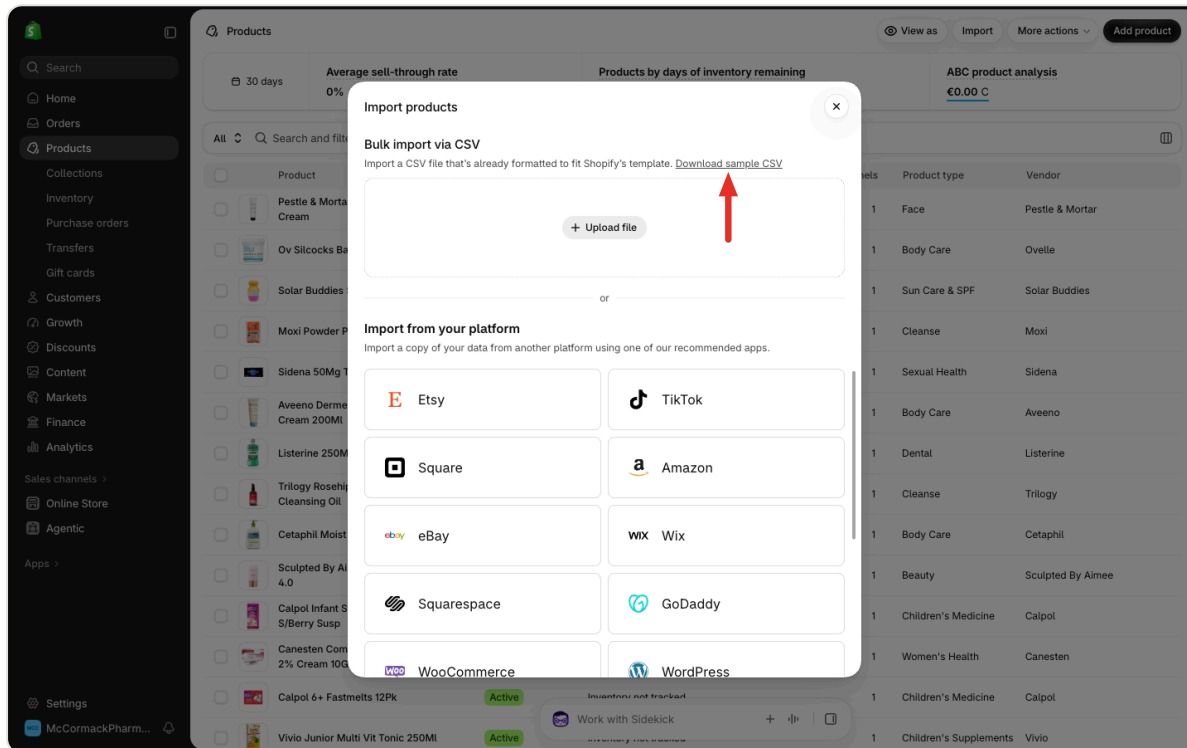

Always import three rows first. Check those three products on the website. Only then import the rest.

A spreadsheet mistake repeats on every row. Three wrong products take two minutes to fix. Three hundred take a day.

Get the spreadsheet template

1. Go to Products and click Import at the top.
2. Click Download sample CSV. It downloads a spreadsheet with the right column headings.
3. To see how existing products are filled in, click Export instead and export a few products. Copy their style.

Open the file in Excel or Google Sheets. Keep the headings exactly as they are.

REFERENCE

The columns that matter

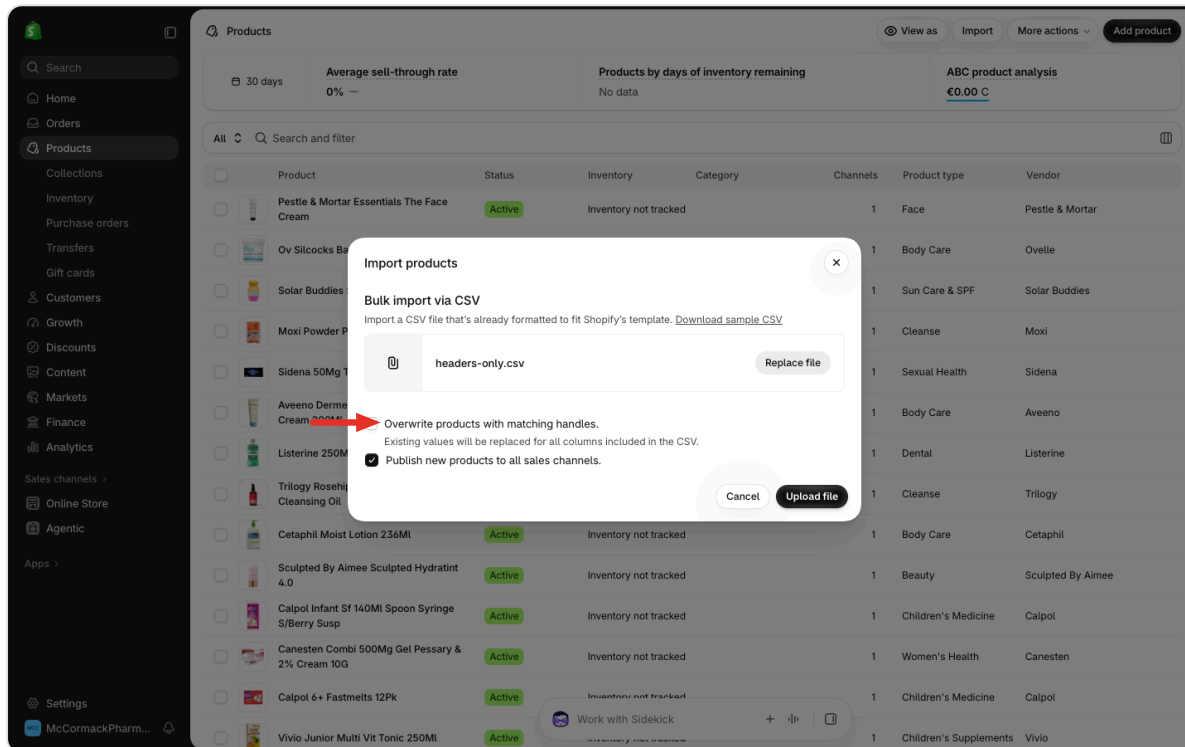

COLUMN	EXAMPLE
Title	Bio-Oil Dry Skin Gel 100ml
Vendor	Bio-Oil
Type	Baby > Maternity Care
Status	draft
Price	12.99
Compare-at price	(blank unless reduced)
Tags	sale, New In

Fill in the spreadsheet

One row is one product (or one size of a product). The columns that matter most:

- Type: Department > Subcategory, copied exactly from an existing product.
- Vendor: the brand, copied exactly from an existing product.
- Status: draft. Set products live by hand once you have checked them.
- Price and Compare-at price: numbers only, no € sign.
- Tags: sale or New In if needed, and pharmacist-review on every medicine (page 28), separated by commas.
- Image: a web link to each photograph.

Column names differ slightly between Shopify's older and newer templates. Use the headings in the file you downloaded.

Import, check, then import the rest

1. Save a copy of your spreadsheet with only the first three product rows.
2. Products > Import > Upload file, and choose the three-row file.
3. Leave Overwrite products with matching handles unticked. Publish new products to all sales channels is ticked already: that is fine as long as the Status column says draft.
4. Click Upload file. If Shopify shows a preview, read it before you confirm. When it finishes, open all three products and check type, brand, price, photographs and stock.
5. Only if all three are right, import the full file.

Overwrite products with matching handles replaces existing products with whatever is in your spreadsheet, including blank cells. Leave it unticked unless you are deliberately updating products you exported.

Common mistakes: product can't be found

- Not on any department page: type is blank, a season ("Christmas Shop"), a promotion ("Clearance > 3 for €10") or a brand ("Brands > BPerfect").
- Missing from its brand page: vendor is spelled differently, for example "Bio Oil" instead of "Bio-Oil".
- Not on the website at all: status is Draft, or Online Store is not ticked.
- Shows "sold out" but it's on the shelf: quantity is 0, or Track quantity was set without a count.

Not on the Sale page	Tag: sale

Common mistakes: prices, photographs, imports

- Reduced, but no SALE badge: the price was lowered without a Compare-at price.
- SALE badge at full price: the sale ended but the Compare-at price was left in.
- Has a SALE badge but isn't on the Sale page: the tag sale is missing. The reverse means the tag was left on.
- Blurred photograph: the file is under 1000 pixels.
- Photograph cropped or with bars: it is not square.
- An import changed products it shouldn't have: "Overwrite products with matching handles" was ticked.
- An import made duplicates: the web addresses (handles) in the spreadsheet did not match the existing products.
- A medicine can be added to the bag straight from a list: the tag pharmacist-review is missing (page 28).

Not sure? Set the product to Draft and ask. A draft is never lost, a deletion always is.

REFERENCE

Is it a medicine?

ON THE PACK	ADD PHARMACIST-REVIEW?
PA or PPA number	Yes
TR number (herbal medicine)	Yes
EU/1/ number	Yes
VPA number (pet medicine)	Yes
CE mark only: plasters, tests, supports	No
Not sure	Yes, then ask the pharmacist

Medicines: the pharmacist-review tag

A pharmacist has to check every order for a medicine before it is sent. The website recognises a medicine by one tag: pharmacist-review. It keeps the product from being added to the bag straight from a list or search, and it marks the order for a pharmacist to check.

Is it a medicine? Look on the pack for a licence number: PA or PPA followed by numbers, TR (herbal medicines), EU/1/, or VPA (medicines for pets). If there is one, it is a medicine, even if it looks like a toiletry. Sudocrem and medicated corn plasters are medicines. Plasters, bandages, test kits and throat sweets are not.

- 1. In the `Product organization` box, click Tags.
- 2. Type pharmacist-review exactly: lower case, with the hyphen. Press Enter.
- 3. Click `Save`.

Without the tag, a medicine can be bought in one click and sent without a pharmacist seeing the order. If you are not sure, add the tag and ask the pharmacist. Never take it off a medicine.
